

VULGAR THE VIKING

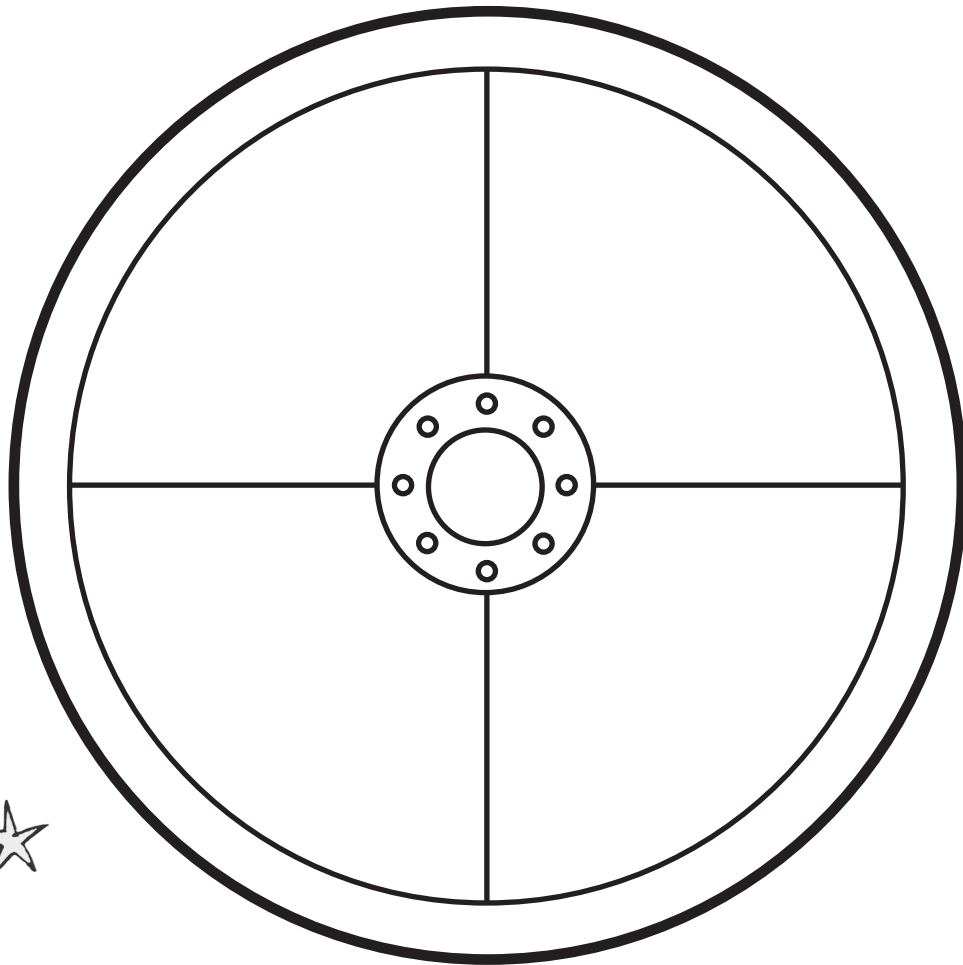

Odin Redbeard

Decorate a Viking shield!

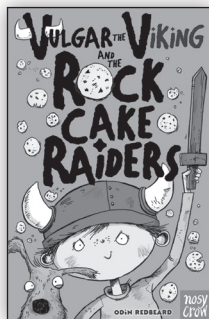

Vikings liked to fight (a LOT!) and were feared for their battle skills. They used well-crafted swords, axes and spears to attack their enemies, but also needed to protect themselves, which is where shields came in.

Archaeological evidence suggests that typical Viking shields were pretty huge (about 80-90cm in diameter) and painted in bold colours.

Why not try your hand at decorating the shield below?

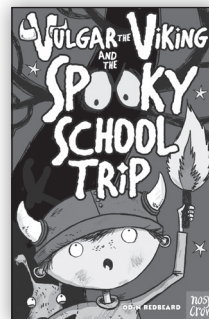

Collect them all!

Out now

Out now

September 2012